They'll Wear The White Star

Sigma Nu Fraternity Pledges Beta Gamma Upsilon Sunday

Two Concerts Bee Gee Chapter Will Be Brought to BG Fifth In Ohio; 99th In U. S.

Dorothy Maynor and the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra will be the major presentations of the University Entertainment Assembly program this year, Prof. John Schwarz, chairman of the student-faculty committee announced today.

Miss Maynor, famous Negro soprano, will appear in concert November 27 at 8:15 p.m. in the Men's Gym. She has appeared as soloist with several of the nation's outstanding symphony orchestras and has received public acclaim through personal appearances and recordings.

Goossens Returns

The Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, one of the six principal orchestras of America, will play a return engagement on February 5 when they will appear in the Men's Gym. The 88 piece orchestra, under the direction of Eugene Goossens, presented a concert last year that surpassed in excellence and attendance any other similar program ever brought to the campus.

Activity cards will admit students to these assembly programs which are also open to the public.

Faculty members of the Entertainment and Assembly Committee are: Prof. John Schwarz, chairman; Prof. M. C. McEwen, and Prof. Elden T. Smith. Student members are Sue Gesling and Betty Krabill.

An advisory committee of 15 Bowling Green residents will work with the committee again this year on the Cincinnati Symphony program. The aid of these people was valuable last year in helping to obtain guarantors from the city and in making the concert such a success, Professor Schwarz said.

Beta Gamma Upsilon will become the third local fraternity to nationalize since 1942 when it is pledged to Sigma Nu, Sunday, November 4. Sigma Nu granted final acceptance for a charter to Beta Gamma Upsilon in early August and is laying plans to install the chapter in the spring of 1946.

Play Try-Outs Begin Nov. 1

Try-outs for the first major University Theatre production, "Arsenic and Old Lace," will be Thursday afternoon and evening, in the University Auditorium, from 3 to 5 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m., Director Elden T. Smith announced early this week.

Anyone enrolled in the University is eligible to try out for a part in the show. There are parts for three women and eleven men. Play books are on reserve in the Library.

"Arsenic and Old Lace," a play in three acts by Joseph Kesselring, was first produced on the stage at the Fulton Theatre in New York, in August 1941, where it became a Broadway hit of the year.

The list of characters follows: Abby Brewster, a Victorian lady in her late sixties; Martha Brewster, her sister, also sweet and Victorian; the Rev. Dr. Harper; Teddy Brewster, who thinks he is Teddy Roosevelt; Officer Brophy; Officer Kline; Elaine Harper, the ingenue; Mortimer Brewster, the drama critic; Mr. Gibbs; Jonathan Brewster; Dr. Einstein; Officer O'Hara; Lt. Rooney, and Mr. Witherspoon.

All the action takes place in the Brewster home in Brooklyn during the present day.

Annual "Messiah" Will Be Given

"The Messiah" will be given this year by a University-Community chorus, according to Prof. M. C. McEwen, associate professor of music. Last year this annual performance of "The Messiah" could not be given because of a lack of men, Mr. McEwen said.

The first rehearsal will be Thursday evening, Nov. 1, from 8 to 9 p.m. in the Practical Arts Auditorium. No preliminary try-outs will be given for the chorus to be made up of students, faculty, and Bowling Green residents.

An orchestra will be combined with the organ for the December 20 performance. Soloists will be announced later.

Those desiring to be in the chorus should bring copies of the music to Thursday's rehearsal, since only a limited number can be furnished by the University. Orders for new copies may be placed with Mr. McEwen.

University Gets Surplus Equipment

Bowling Green State University is to receive equipment that will exceed $40,000 in value, according to President Frank J. Prout. This equipment has been classed as surplus and through application at the Cleveland Ordnance Depot has been released to the University. Only those universities that participated in the training of mechanics during the war are eligible to get such equipment.

The industrial arts department of the school will receive new lathes, milling machines, and electric welders, while the chemistry department will be given special chemical equipment that will be used in outfitting the new science building. Some paints will also be included in the surplus.

This material has been approved by the State Board of Education and is being released by the Fifth Service Command.

Treble Clef Organized Into Two Separate Clubs

Two separate women's glee clubs, one made up of upperclasswomen, the other of freshmen women, have been formed to accommodate the large number of women who passed Treble Clef try-outs, according to Dr. James Paul Kennedy, associate professor of music and director of Treble Clef.

Treble Clef has been organized for upperclasswomen, while freshmen women have their own glee club. The two clubs will meet separately for rehearsals and combine later for rehearsals and in concerts.

Further try-outs will be held Thursday. Freshmen may try out from 6:45 to 8 p.m., and upperclasswomen from 8:05 to 9:20 p.m. in the Practical Arts Auditorium. Students who want appointments to try out for the clubs should contact Dr. Kennedy in 218, Practical Arts Building.

Treble Clef officers are Evelyn Vesey, president; Marjory Hartsook, secretary; Janice Smith, manager; and Marian Organ, librarian. A vacancy left by Donna Rohr, publicity chairman, who did not return to school, will be filled later.

Second Soprano: Betty Huselton, Patti Beal, Jean McKelvy, Sallie House, Rose Callanni, Carol Adam, Betty Paxton, Martha Roberts, Jane Nelson, Mary DeWeese, Lois Hall, Mary Tomlinson, Velma Bisher, Carolyn Lutz, Jeanette

Directory Sale Will Be Soon

Student Directories, containing names, home addresses, Bowling Green addresses, and telephone numbers of all students, will be ready for distribution in several weeks, Jean Harshman, editor of the publication, said today.

An official University publication for the first time this year, the Directory has, in the past, been compiled, edited, published, and sold by the campus YMCA. Last spring, the publications committee of the University, with the approval of the administration, decided to take over publication of the booklets, allowing the Y to sell the copies since the project had been the group's primary money-making activity.

SCF Heads Distribution

Since the YMCA is no longer in existence, the newly organized Student Christian Fellowship will distribute the Directories. They will sell for 25 cents.

As students registered at Bowling Green, they filled out special Student Directory cards from which the staff got the information for the books, Jean said. The copy is now at the printers and will be proofed this weekend, she added.

Staff members include Doris Ackerman, Gordon Ward, Mary Hruby, Jean Mains, Barbara Gustavson, Ruth Lachman, Norman Klee, Marjorie Fordyce, Rosemarie Tomka, Pauline Simkins, JoAnn Simmons, June Widner, and Vera Schwartz. Tom Mercer is the SCF member in charge of distribution.

Publications Committee

Other official University publications under control of the publications committee include the Bee Gee News, the Key, and the Freshman Handbook. Editors of the newspaper and yearbook and two students appointed by Student Council in addition to three faculty members make up the control committee. Prof. Jesse J. Currier, head of the department of journalism, is chairman.

The 1946-47 directory will contain names and addresses of faculty and staff members, University telephone numbers, data concerning students, and lists of members of each fraternity and sorority.

"The main aim of the Directory staff is to make the publication as accurate as possible and available early," the editor emphasized. Last year's booklet, the ninth published by the Y, was not distributed until after the Christmas holiday because of war-time printing difficulties.

Key Staff Organizes

The Key organization meeting will be held tonight at 7:00 in the Key offices on the third floor of the Ad. Building, Alice White announced today.

All staff members and anyone interested in working on the 1946 Key are asked to be present.

Double Trouble

Double trouble, and plenty of it, is on campus this year, as the student body and faculty are confronted with the problem of learning to distinguish four sets of twins. All from Ohio, there are two sets of men and two sets of women to cause confusion.

Mansfield's contribution to the troubles are Joann and Janet Banks, who live at Kohl Hall. In the College of Education, they are majoring in biology.

Marilyn and Marjorie Connors hail from Toledo, and are in the College of Liberal Arts as journalism majors. They are responsible for the mix-ups at Shatzel.

Engineers they will be, and practically a corporation, when Dick and Bob Sisler graduate from the college of Liberal Arts. The boys come from Lima, and live at the ATO House.

Living at the Nest, Frederick and Ferdinand Williams, from Carey, are majoring in accounting in the College of Business Administration.

"Free Trade" Is Debate Topic

"Free Trade" is the debate question for the year, according to an announcement made this week by Dr. Evelyn Kenesson, instructor of speech and debate coach. A meeting is being held this afternoon at 4 p.m. in the radio studio for students interested in debate. Members of Pi Kappa Delta should be present at the meeting.

Dr. Kenesson announced that several debate invitations have been received and, although no definite plans have been formed, an active season is being planned for the squad.

For the past two years, Dr. Kenesson has taught at the Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, where she coached several winning debate squads whose success resulted in the establishment of a charter of Pi Kappa Delta, national forensic honorary.

Forum Opens Series With Talk by Dr. Nash

The first number of the Wood County Public Forum will be presented Sunday, November 4, in the high school auditorium when Dr. Philip C. Nash will speak on "Can World Organization Prevent Annihilation?" Dr. C. G. Swanson announced today.

Among the seven speakers scheduled for the year is the well known political figure, Norman Thomas, head of the Socialist Party, who will speak on "A Program for the Age of Atomic Energy."

Student season tickets are now on sale under the sponsorship of the Comte Club. The student price is one dollar plus 20 per cent federal tax. Chairmen will be appointed in each dormitory and house and tickets will be available through them and at a table in the Well.

SCF Will Vote Cabinet Posts

Over 800 members of the Student Christian Fellowship will hold their first election on November 9 to fill four vacancies which exist on the cabinet. Voting will be held in the Well from 9 to 12 a.m. and from 1 to 4 p.m. Ballots will be issued to all holding membership cards.

All members are eligible for the cabinet positions. Nominations may be made until noon Friday, November 2, in the office of Mr. Stoner, SCF director, 202 Administration Building. Nominees will be interviewed by Mr. Stoner prior to the closing of the nominations at noon. The petitions which must be signed by 25 members must be filed in the SCF office by 4 p.m. on Wednesday, November 7.

Of the 16 cabinet members, four will be chosen in the general membership election. Six of the members were chosen from the six participating groups: YWCA, YMCA, Wesley Foundation, Westminster Club, United Brethren Church, and the Christian Church. Six additional members will be appointed by the cabinet as chairmen of the interest groups.

When the SCF meets next Sunday at 6 p.m. in the Rec Hall for its weekly program, Mr. Stoner will be featured on the program. A musical novelty number by a sextette of students will be the entertainment.

At the last business meeting of the cabinet the following purpose for the Student Christian Fellowship was adopted:

"We seek to build a fellowship of students who will strive to develop a mature Christian faith, to confront students with the social crises of our day, to lead them to apply the Christian faith to all areas of personal and social living, and to maintain vital contact with intercollegiate and international student Christian groups."

Two New Faculty Members Appointed

Appointments of two faculty members have been announced by President Frank J. Prout. Miss Mary Ann Click has been appointed dietitian at Williams Hall, and Dr. John W. Lewis is assistant professor of English.

Miss Click was graduated from Purdue University, where she received her B.S. degree in home economics. She will teach students majoring in restaurant administration and dietetics who will do their practical work in the Williams Hall kitchen.

Dr. Lewis comes here from the University of Illinois where he has taught English for the past seven years. He received his Ph.D. from the University of Illinois.

Students Finish Practice Teaching

Twenty-six seniors have completed their practice teaching on the "block" plan, some starting September 10 and ending October 5, others starting October 1 and ending October 28.

Student Council Will Meet Friday

Student Council will meet at 4 p.m. Friday in 200 Administration Building, Jean Harshman, acting chairman, announced today. The following students, in addition to the faculty representatives, are urged to attend:

Elizabeth Roulet, Don Sutter, Mary Loudenslagel, 1944-45 class presidents; chairmen of dormitories (being chosen this week); a member of the social committee; Georgianna Kaul; editor of the News; Alice White, editor of the Key; Sue Gesling, WSGA president; Clara Jean Miller, WAA; Sallie House, Pan-Hellenic Council; Dorothy Raines, YWCA; Gerry Cedoz, Men's Union. Don Sutter also will represent Inter-Fraternity Council.

Congratulations, Beta Gamma

With the nationalization of Beta Gamma Upsilon in view, the youngest of Bowling Green's fraternities has realized a dream that began five years ago when a handful of men organized a club with the intention of its developing into a social fraternity.

Little did they know what lay in store for them in the war years ahead with the scattering of their members all over the world.

Yet, Beta Gamma grew and in five short years was ready for nationalization.

Congratulations and best wishes to the Beta Gammas.

Give For Victory

The Victory Loan drive is on! Eighth in the series of war loans, this is as important as the other seven loans. They helped to win the war; this one will help clean up after the war.

The money you give now will rehabilitate the wounded, will help maintain the armies of occupation, and will bring servicemen and women back home.

Let's keep on giving for Victory!

Hallowe'en Customs Bring Hopes To Man-less Maidens

by Gloria Wernts

A full year's leaves on the calendar have been torn off and thrown away into the past, and once again the ghosts of Hallowe'en rule for a night. Houses will break out in a pox of soaped windows, and unsuspecting homeowners will walk out onto nonexistent back steps. The younger element of society will probably take in a good percentage of the town's confectionery not to mention a terrific "morning after"—and unattached maidens will turn their attached maidens will turn their attention to their romantic future.

Ah, yes! Though it be madness, there is method in it. And we do mean the methods, honorable and otherwise, of this thing called love. It used to be, back in the middle ages, that the weaker sex cringed behind barred doors to escape the spirits and goblins supposedly abroad in the night, but times have changed, and the shy, blushing amazon of today has no qualms about going abroad herself in search of a prospective mate.

In many towns in this country—yes, in these United States, where all a girl needs to get a husband is oomph and money, and often just the money is enough, some of the ancient customs and superstitions determining the identity and whereabouts of one's lover still hold sway.

For instance, the debs in several towns use the method of plucking a hair from their brow and tossing it to the wind, the idea being that the direction in which the wind blows the hair is the direction from which the future lover will come. And girls, no fair using a deep sigh to push the hair in any special direction.

Then, too, if a girl is really desperate, and is willing to ruin her evening's paint job, she can always try the duckin' for apples stunt. It seems that the first girl in the group to succeed in getting an apple out of the tub with her teeth will be the first to marry. This is rather a doubtful qualification for marriage, so if any of

You know what a Wave is and you know what a WAC is, but do you know what a Wock is? A Wock is a thing you throw at a wabbit.

BUY VICTORY BONDS

you girls try this one, we'd suggest a course in dishwashing, cooking, and bed making, just to clinch the deal.

One other stunt which can be tried is that of stealing a cabbage. It is said that as a girl pulls up the cabbage, she will have a vision of the man she is to marry. If something goes wrong, and the supernatural receiving set fails, the girl is sure to meet the lucky man on her way home. However, if that fails, there is still one course open: the fair maiden can put the cabbage on top of her door, and the first person upon whose head it falls will be The One.

So, girls, tonight's the night. May the best slugger win, and luck to you all. (Hey! Quit shovin'! We got that blackjack first!)

Watercolors Exhibited

The watercolors by Mr. Dehner now on display in the Library will continue to be shown during the next two months.

Next in the series of monthly displays in the Art Workshop will be a photography exhibit.

Reception Honors New Faculty Members

A Faculty reception was held Monday night at 8:00 in the Rec Hall honoring the new members of the faculty.

Mrs. Frank J. Prout, Dean Audrey K. Wilder, Mrs. Frank Ogg and Mrs. Maude Sharp poured coffee for the guests.

The Editor's Mail

Dear Editor,

Would students like to see democracy rule on the campus this year? Do they want to be represented in the campus activities?

In a democratic way of life the majority group is always represented. According to the best available figures, this year there are about 1300 University women. At present approximately 300 of these are sorority members. According to the quota system set up by the Panhellenic Council only 45 upperclass women and no more than 200 freshmen may be pledged. With a few easy computations we can very readily see that the number of sorority members will be limited to 550 which leaves 750, or the majority, without organized representation.

In most campus activities only those who belong to a highly organized group are represented. Why should this 750 who have chosen to remain independent, or are victims of uncontrollable circumstances, not be represented? The obvious answer is that they should. This can only be accomplished through the efforts and cooperation of everyone. Last year an effective organization was started to combat this present situation. The purpose of the Independents is to give students the representation they should have.

Not only will this organization afford campus representation, but it will also afford opportunities for greater social development among the unorganized women.

Lucille Pope, President
Independents Organization

Natatorium Opens For Evening Swimming

The Natatorium will be open to all women for recreational swimming every Monday from 7 to 9 p.m.

The first meeting of the Bowling Club will be held at the downtown bowling alley Saturday, November 3, at 10 a.m. All women students are eligible for membership.

WAA Holds Picnic For 350 New Students

The WAA held its annual picnic for all new women students last Thursday evening. Approximately 350 freshmen and transfer students attended. After the picnic the faculty members of the women's physical education department and the student heads of the various sports clubs were introduced to the guests.

Womens hockey teams have been organized and captains elected for the Round Robin tournament, which will be played every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon at 4 p.m. in the playing field behind the Women's Building. Virginia Dawe, sophomore, is head of hockey.

A Round Robin soccer tournament will be played off every Monday and Wednesday at 4 p.m. for all women interested in playing soccer.

And then there was the soldier who said, "All I want out of the army is me!"

Coke-Tales

by JoAnn Simmons

Happy Hallowe'en to you. Better keep your lovely faces out of the windows tonight, or people will begin to wonder why you're not all lit up . . . and you'd better not be!

Have you seen all the interesting people blowing in and out of the Nest all the time? Tell me, Mr. Anthony, why do they always have girls with them?

CHEER UP

Hey, freshmen, just to tip you off, that empty feeling in your stomach isn't homesickness—it's hunger. And besides that, Dr. Moseley is predicting a drought (spelled with an "o" and meaning dry weather. So bear with us; you'll learn to love the place.

Now that you don't have to worry about matching those green ribbons any more, it'll be more fun to get up in the morning, 'cause you can put on that new blue sweater. (If it's especially sharp and a size 44, will you please leave your name and address in the News office!) But now that Freshman Week is over, there's nothing to do but sit back and relax with a text-book in your hands. You know what that is: a text-book is something you have and wish you didn't . . . roughly corresponds with measles, antonym of money.

In parting—Did you hear about those two classmates of yours who rushed into the hospital, asked an upperclassman where the doctor was and handed her a slip reading, "Report to Dr. Kennedy immediately,"?

IT'S GOOD TO SEE . . .

Those service sons come back . . . Tom Buttle, Doyle Smith, Chuck Hunter, Larry Kuhl, and Lou Kaplan. Welcome home, kids. We've missed you.

HAPPY WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

To Professor and Mrs. Smith. Tell us, Elden T., is it true that you were carrying out the traditional false-face idea eight years ago today?

SOCIAL BLUNDERS

Did you see dream-boy Tommy Weaver give ditto Brock Broughton ye olde hippe bootie in the Nest the other day? Only it turned out to be Jean Hanni and Ginny Duvall. Ugh, the kid with the red, red face came back with, "It was fun, though," but we noticed he didn't dance for a while.

And then there was a little old man at a recent wedding who couldn't whisper. As a bunch of Bee Gee girls took the pew in front of him, he leaned over and remarked in a very loud but serious voice, "They must be sorority sisters . . . they all look alike."

The fact that June Koehler's and Dale Meffley's names didn't appear in last week's column along with all the other happily married couples spells BLUNDER in capitals. It wasn't really forgotten, just that I was so sad for myself by that time that the copy readers couldn't make out the names because of the tear-smudges.

It's been going around that Mary Delidrich changed her name to Big Chief Please-Gag-Me because her face was sooo scarlet for soooo long. Seems that a great idea for starting a conversation with the fellow who sat beside her in class (been so long since there have been men in classes that the kid went hog-wild) was to suggest that it was nice that they were far enough in the back to administer first aid to each other in times of tests. Couldn't imagine his lack of enthusiasm until she saw him sign his name as the Reverend (No-No)!

IT HAS BEEN SUGGESTED . . .

That bunks be installed at the book store before the next semester . . . The use of more rooms in the Lib, say one for history students, one for gabby kids . . . That the "Twenty-four from Shatzel" give a show with their song for the main theme . . .

TECHNICAL ERROR

Short and Stupid Story—But oh, so true!

Marti was brimming over. Bud had just called and said he'd be in town the following morning to take her to the Nest for breakfast. It was too good to be true. She had taken her shower, put up her hair especially well, and snuggled into bed to concentrate on what to wear.

" . . . Let's see, my newest sweater is black, and that biege plaid skirt is the best looking, but that would never do. The black check skirt would be o.k., but that won't look too sharp with the coverts cloth coat. It could be done, though . . . but no . . . and my black coat is too long with heels. Oh, dear. Smitty's black one might fit me, but where can I get some black mocassins? Ginny! Oh, that's too much black. He'll think I've been mourning for him, and besides it wouldn't blend with my psyc book. Blue skirt and pink sweater . . . pink socks dirty. Green skirt and sweater . . . navy skirt and white sweater . . . no . . . no . . . no . . . no . . . sleep . . ."

She was up and at it an hour early next morning, putting 'em on and taking 'em off. Finally, she was all dressed—really looked good in Sue's plaid skirt, Jean's sweater, Nan's shoes, and Barb's coat. And then she remembered he was color blind.

Sports Scribbles

from SMITH

Bob Smith, Sports Editor

Greetings, sports fans! As another promising athletic year for the Fighting Falcons looms ahead, it will be a great pleasure to serve you once again from the sports page. We'll do our best to keep you informed on all up-to-the-minute Falcon sports news.

Now that all formalities have been taken care of, let's get down to brass tacks.

As most of you no doubt know, Bowling Green has definitely risen to national basketball recognition in the past two years. If the Falcons can successfully complete this year's schedule, the toughest in Bee Gee history, they can assure themselves of even greater recognition.

After Bee Gee's splendid performances on the eastern courts last season, sports fans in that region are clamoring for more, and Coach Anderson has obliged by scheduling several top-notch teams in that sector.

Possibly in the not too distant future western sports fans will also receive the opportunity of watching Bee Gee teams in action.

Have you ever wondered what preparation the athletic department uses to "whiten" the backs of the two glass backboards in the Men's Gym?

A "secret" saturated solution of "stale beer and Epsom Salts," of all things, skillfully dabbed on with the aid of an old basketball jersey does the trick.

VISITORS

Recent visitors on campus were two members of last year's championship cage team, Don Whitehead and Gerhardt Piel, former V-12 students who are now NROTC students at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, New York. Whitehead, a member of Coach Anderson's starting five last year, was also quite active in basketball during his stay here, and Piel was a reserve basketball player.

Incidentally, Bee Gee's first victory in the National Invitational Tournament last year was over R.P.I., who up to that time had been undefeated.

Another visitor on the campus was Ensign Lowell Seilschott, N.A.C., a 1943 Bee Gee graduate.

Lowell, who has been stationed at Corpus Christi, Texas, was a mainstay on the Falcon football and baseball teams, winning three letters on the gridiron and two on the diamond. He captained the baseball team his senior year.

Reception Will Be Held For P.E. Students

A reception will be held tonight, at 8 p.m. in Studio B of the Practical Arts Building for all women, majors and minors, and transfer students in physical education. The reception is given by the faculty and majors in physical education.

Committee members are Marian McGinn, chairman in charge of invitations; Jean Cholley, refreshments; June Smith, entertainment; and Lucille Pope, decorations.

Numerals are to be presented to these civilians: David Babcock, Jack Cain, Kenneth Stage, Bill Corlett, Ray Niehm, Art Pardee, and Dan Cross.

Navy men receiving numerals are: Jack Bomar, Kempton Jenkins, Ted Lobinger, Don Macco, Marion McEvoy, Franklin Porter, and Galen Winter.

The awards will be presented at a football dinner to be held soon.

Fencing Club Planned By P. E. Instructor

Organization of a fencing club, women's swimming teams, and a telegraphic swimming meet are being planned by Miss Iris Andrews, instructor in women's physical education.

Miss Andrews has taught physical education at Ypsilanti High School for the past two years and at the same time supervised water safety, playgrounds, and recreation of western Michigan for the State government.

She received her B.S. degree at Battle Creek College, Battle Creek, Mich. and her A.M. at the University of Michigan. She is an honorary member of Phi Lambda Theta, women's physical education honorary.

Swan Club Swims For New Women

Swan Club members will give a demonstration for all new women students in the Natatorium Monday, November 5, at 7:30 p.m. All women interested in joining the club are invited to attend. Some of the formations and rhythmic swimming used in last year's Aquacade, "Winken, Blynken, and Nod," will be demonstrated to give the new students an idea of the Swan Club's activities.

Try-outs for the club will be November 6, 7, 12, and 13 from 7 to 9 p.m. Instruction will be given by club members on the same nights. Testing dates are November 8, 9, 14, and 15 from 7 to 9 p.m.

Qualifications for passing the try-outs will be based on distance swimming, form swimming, and other miscellaneous requirements.

A business meeting for all Swan Club members will be held Thursday, November 1, at 7 p.m. in the Women's Building, after which there will be a practice for the demonstration.

Hedden Stables Get Eight New Horses

Hedden's School of Riding has purchased eight new horses; five of them are Tennessee walking horses and the other three are Kentucky saddle horses. Mr. Hedden declares that the Tennessee walking horse is the greatest pleasure horse in the world.

One semester hour of credit is offered to students who sign up for riding under the physical education department. Many are enrolling, but the total number will not be available until registration is completed, Mr. Hedden said.

Recently Mr. Hedden has been showing horses in Northville, Mich., Findlay, Richmond, Mich., Sidney, and Norwalk. Horses shown were Dr. Burber, Lassie's Command, Grey Lady, and Smooth Rhythm.

Cage Practice Begins As Tough Schedule Shapes Up

Four Returning Lettermen Among Many Outstanding Candidates

With one of the toughest cage schedules ahead ever faced by a Bowling Green team, Coach Harold Anderson began preparations for the 1945-1946 basketball season last Thursday when over 50 candidates turned out for the initial practice session.

Anderson, aided by assistant coach, George Muellich, has four lettermen returning from last year's championship team that gained national recognition by advancing to the finals of the National Invitational Tournament in Madison Square Garden. Captain-elect Sid Otten, Jim Knierim, Leo Kubiak, and Tom Inman are the veterans who will cavort for the Falcons on the court this season. Three regulars of last year are missing from the lineup. Wyndol Gray will be playing for Harvard as a Navy student at R.P.I., and Johnny Payak is in the Armed Services on duty in the Pacific area.

High School Stars

Included in the group of candidates this season are such stars as Gene Dudley, an All-Ohio guard from Bellevue; Bob Stanton, holder of the new Youngstown city scoring record; and Vern Dunham and Bob Stamp from Norton, one of the State's outstanding Class B teams last season. Fritz Plinke from Lancaster, Bob Conroy from Brooklyn, N. Y., Bill Suek from Kent, Ted Whitmyer from Janesville, Wisc., and others are working out daily as the Falcons prepare for the season opener sometime the latter part of November.

Schedule Incomplete

Because of several tentative dates on the slate that have not been filled, the complete schedule will not be ready until next week.

Such well-known teams as Long Island U., Valparaiso, a new addition this year, and Great Lakes are on the list. The Falcons have accepted invitations to two big-time tournaments to be held in Chicago later on in the season. They will compete against such nationally recognized teams as DePaul, Oklahoma A & M, Hamline, Oregon U., and Washington U.

Several doubleheaders are being planned, both on the home court and away. With such a schedule of top-notch matches, Falcon basketball followers will witness some of the best brand of basketball in the nation.

Students Take Flying Courses

Flying courses offered by the University have an enrollment of 23 students and more are expected, according to Gene Fitch, chief pilot. Present enrollment includes 15 veterans taking the course under the G.I. Bill. Three co-eds including two sisters, are also learning to fly. They are Dorothy Jean Allbright, Ruth DeConick and Marion DeConick.

Actual flying will be the main part of the course, with much of the ground work, such as meteorology and theory of flight, eliminated. Seven planes at Bricker Field will be used: four bi-planes and three small trainers. Flight instruction will be continued throughout the winter, Fitch said.

Private Licenses

Those who complete the course will be eligible for private licenses, with which they may fly anywhere carrying anyone, but not for hire. Mr. Fitch said about 90 per cent of the licenses issued are of this type.

Any student is eligible for the course if he can pass the standard physical examination given at Johnston Hospital. Veterans will have their fees paid through the G.I. Bill; the fees for other students are $257.50.

Sororities Will Open Houses To All New Women Students

Open house teas and coffee hours for all freshman women and transfer students will be held during the first few weeks of school so that new students and sorority women can become better acquainted.

First in this series of teas given annually by all sororities will be Sunday, Nov. 13 by Alpha Epsilon, Tri-Lambda, Alpha Phi, Gamma Phi Beta, and Kappa Zeta Pi.

In order to accommodate all of the students who are expected, Panhellenic has set up a schedule of the hours when they may attend.

Alpha Epsilon and Tri-Lambda will have teas Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 p.m.; Alpha Phi, Gamma Phi Beta, and Kappa Zeta Pi will entertain from 7 to 9 p.m.

The schedule for the Alpha Epsilon tea is as follows:

First Floor Kohl.....3-3:30 p.m.
Women's Building.....3:20-3:40 p.m.
Second Floor Kohl.....3:40-4 p.m.
Shatzel, Williams,
and Johnston.....4-4:20 p.m.
Third Floor Kohl.....4:20-4:40 p.m.

Council Chooses Party Planners

Appointments to the University Social Committee will be made Friday by Student Council, Jean Harshman, acting Council chairman, said today. On that day at 4 p.m., the campus governing body will have its first regular meeting of the year.

Although applications for positions for women were accepted last spring, men's applications will be considered in compliance with the Social Committee constitution, Jean explained. Last spring, there were so few civilian men on campus who met the requirements for membership that applications were accepted from women only.

Inter-Fraternity Council has been asked to submit for consideration names of fraternity men; the committee which is organizing the Men's Union is suggested by the two men's groups.

Square Dance, Movies Will Be Fri. and Sat.

Square dancing and movies are included in the Social Committee's plans for fun and entertainment.

The first square dance (sweaters and skirts) will be held in the Rec Hall from 8:30 p.m. until 11:30 p.m. Friday. Nelson's orchestra will play for the dance sponsored by the Social Committee with the assistance of Miss Jane Shoemaker, instructor in physical education. Physical education majors will help those who do not know how to square dance. Ac cards will be required for admittance.

Saturday Movie

"Ten Gentlemen From West Point," starring George Montgomery, will be shown in the Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Saturday. This is the second in a series of movies which will be presented throughout the year. Ac cards must be presented at the door for admittance.

Because the crowds were so large at the square dances last year, additional loud speakers are being installed so that sets of dances can be held in the corridor by the book store, as well as in the Rec Hall.

Social Committee

Miss Audrey Kenyon Wilder, dean of women, is chairman of the Social Committee, and Jean Mains, junior, is the student assistant. All organizations planning social activities should contact Jean, who has office hours in Dean Wilder's office every day from 11 to 12 noon and from 3 to 5 p.m.

Radio Programs Will Be Over WFIN

University radio programs will again be broadcast over station WFIN Findlay this year through the remote control facilities of that station every Thursday afternoon from 8:30 to 4 p.m. according to Prof. Sidney Stone, director of radio. The first broadcast will go over the air in November.

The policy if this year's broadcasting schedule follows that of former years will use dramatic programs as a basis for the broadcasts with programs pertaining to special occasions, such as Christmas and Easter, interspersed at times.

Students enrolled in radio courses will produce most of the programs, but the special programs will frequently use outside talent. Radio students will participate in laboratory productions in preparation for the actual broadcasts.

Two new microphones and stands have arrived for use in the studio, and a new monitoring speaker for the control room is on order. When these are installed, the University studio will duplicate actual broadcast conditions. Tentative plans are for students to take field trips to nearby radio stations to observe commercial broadcasts.

Flying

Safety Emphasized

During the V-5 program here, Mr. Fitch pointed out, over 32,000 hours were flown without a fatality or even serious injury. Thus the dangers involved are less than those in learning to drive a car. Students will, however, be protected by both the insurance they take and the blanket policy covering the whole group.

Similar programs at other schools have been very successful, said Mr. Fitch, mentioning the program at Ohio University, Athens, where he visited last week.

Nest Changes Near Completion

The kitchen of the Falcon's Nest is being enlarged in order to facilitate serving the large number of students enrolled.

According to the carpenters, now working in the Nest, it previously had only half a kitchen, which was inefficiently arranged and presented a great handicap for serving the number of people who patronize the Nest. The old kitchen had several sinks and stoves and a steam table.

The kitchen has now been enlarged to provide 24 feet more of floor space. This will allow a greater number of people to work with greater speed. Among the new improvements are an electric dishwasher, built-in iceboxes, a store room, a pie oven and a pastry table; a rest room and a locker room for the convenience of the Nest employees are being added.

Cafeteria style of serving is being used in the Nest for the first time this year. A steam table has been installed behind the bar to keep food hot.

Carpenters started work on the improvements on September 1, and expect to finish their work about the first of the year. During Christmas vacation, when the Nest is closed, they will do the plastering in the kitchen.

Art Exhibit Opens Thurs.

The first in a series of campus art exhibits will open Sunday, November 4, in the studio of Walt Dehner, resident artist. Mr. Dehner's studio is located on the fourth floor of the Administration Building.

Sunday's exhibit will feature "prints for the eternal sophomore and his lady," Mr. Dehner said.

This art collection comes from the Kennedy Galleries in New York and will include etchings, aqua tents, lithographs, wood blocks, and silk prints. All of these are by masters in various graphic arts medium, Mr. Dehner said.

Martin Lewis, Reginald Marsh, George Jo Mess, Carl E. Pichardt, Doel Reed, Leonard Pytlak, Fernin Rucker, William Sharp, and Lawrence B. Smith.

The exhibit will be open every Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday from 1 to 5 p.m.

Former "Kampus Kat" Is Organizing Band

Norman Robertson, former piano player with the Kampus Kats, University dance band which disbanded early in 1943, has returned to Bowling Green as a senior and wants to contact any other students who might be interested in organizing a new band.

"Sax and trumpet players, drummers, and any other musicians can contact me at the Bee Gee News office by leaving a note," Norm said.
